Principal's Newsletter October – November 2014

Golden and red trees
Nod to the soft breeze,
As it whispers, "winter is near;"
And the brown nuts fall
At the wind's loud call,
For this is the Fall of the year. By Ellen Robena Field

Dear Parents,

What a beautiful autumn season we have experienced so far. The warm 70 degree afternoons have transformed into sweater days and we look forward to frosty nights. The beginning of the school year came and went so quickly. The teachers and students have successfully established routines and procedures for class lessons and homework. The students are busy learning so many new concepts. The course work is rigorous. Please remember to review your child's homework and read with him/her every day for 20 minutes.

November brings about opportunity to reflect on what we are thankful for. I am grateful for the joyful energetic children that grace the hallways with smiles and laughter. I am grateful for the hard-working, dedicated staff and faculty that come early and stay late to ensure students receive high-quality education. I am grateful for the parents that send their children to school daily and support their academics.
